Japanese Claim 15 British Ships Sunk Near India

By the Associated Press

Tokyo naval quarters said Wednesday that Japanese warships opening fire on the shores of India had sunk 15 large merchantships in less than an hour in a surprise attack April 6 on a British convoy while on the critical Burma warfront. British and Chinese troops again were forced to retreat.

British headquarters acknowledged that Japanese invasion columns were within 30 miles of the heart of the central Burma oil field.

In Tokyo a Japanese naval commander declared Japanese warships had sailed so close to the Indian coast that sailors could see hills and forts in closing in on the big British convoy.

Eye-witness accounts said officers mistook the raiders for British naval units and that Japanese men-o-war moved in until the 8-inch guns of the British ships were visible and then opened fire.

Big Drive in Burma

CHUNGKING (AP)—The Japanese are launching a major drive in the Southwest Shan state in Burma; the Chinese announced Wednesday night.

The Japanese were said to be attempting to cut railway lines between Mandalay and Lashui, far behind the present Chinese lines above Tounghoo.

Apparently the Chinese, moving northward from bases in north Thailand were attempting to cut the considerable Chinese forces in the Tounghoo regions some 200 miles to the south from China. If successful the drive would endanger the north supply route from India to China.

Cleanup Week Preparations

Every person in Hope is expected to cooperate in the Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up, Plant Up Campaign soon to be started.

Printed score cards will be distributed through the schools on which a list of all improvements that have been made since the first of this year, and those that will be made in the year future. If you do not have one of these score cards, call at the Chamber of Commerce and they will be glad to give you one.

Miss Deryl Henry, Superintendent of Hope Public Schools, has agreed to see that every child in the schools who wants to help in this campaign be given a score card not only for his or her own home but for those who live near by.

On these cards are listed fifty improvements that can be made and each home is asked to check this list carefully and return them in the school or to the Chamber of Commerce office for tabulation. If there are other improvements made which are not listed, they can be listed on the back of the score cards.

At the end of the campaign, a report will be published of all improvements made inside the city limits of Hope. Prizes will be offered to the school returning the largest number of checked report cards.

The Hope Business and Professional Women's Club has accepted the entire responsibility of seeing that these score cards are distributed, collected and tabulated.

One of our exchanges reports seeing the following sign over the door of a new automobile agency, "Opened by Mistake."

Eleventh Oil Producer for Midway Field

By Special Correspondent

STAMPS — Barnsdall Oil company's Creek No. 1 well, section 10-15-24, flowed Wednesday making the eleventh producer for the Midway oil field.

The casing has been cleaned and swabbed into pits and shut in to await storage tank construction. An official gauge was not immediately available but operators reported the well a good producer.

Barnsdall's Roberts No. 1, section 11-15-24, set production pipe Wednesday at 6420 feet. Product was topped at 6420 feet. Total depth is 6475 feet.

Roberts No. 2, Section 11-15-24, topped prosity at 6313 feet and continued to core and will probably set pipe Thursday. Saturation extends from 6313 to 6420. Operators were well pleased with the showing.

Roberts No. 3, section 14-15-24, was drilling below 2,700 feet.

The McLain No. 1, 14-15-24, was drilling at 5200 feet.

The Hygrade Producing company's Copeland No. 1, section 32-14-24, in Hempstead county was drilling at 6120 feet. Operators expected to top lime around 6250 feet.

Gen. Johnson of NRA, Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—General Hugh S. Johnson—the hard driving tough-tongued "iron pants" of the World War and the recovery period NRA and more recently a caustic newspaper columnist—died of pneumonia Wednesday 12 hours after writing his last column against orders of physicians.

Death came to the 59-year-old former soldier in a Washington hotel. He had been weakened by ill health for several months.

Although he rose from a captain to a Brig. General in the World War Johnson died technically a private.

President Roosevelt last April 30 refused his reappointment as an army reserve officer.

Group Reports on Normandie

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Naval sub-committee blamed carelessness and lack of proper supervision Wednesday for the fire which damaged the liner Normandie in New York harbor but reported that opportunities for sabotage were abundant.

Concluding a two-month investigation the committee issued a long report critical of the government's handling of big ships and disclosed orders had been given for it to sail on February 14, five days after it burned.

Asserting that the fire started from sparks from a blow torch which ignited life preservers the committee said investigation failed to disclose any persons intent on acts of sabotage.

Library Doing Part in War

For the duration of the war the major effort of the Hempstead County Library will be directed toward helping to do its part in winning the war.

Pamphlets and books about the armed forces and civilian participation are now on the shelves of the Hempstead County Library for the use of the people of Hempstead county.

The County Library is cooperating with the Chamber of Commerce in the Victory Garden campaign. Up to date material on minerals and vitamins, vegetables as sources of minerals and vitamins. Who should grow vegetables. What to grow; How to prepare and fertilize the soil. How to plant, etc., are available to the public.

Miss Elsie Weisenberger, county librarian urges the citizens of Hempstead county to visit the library in Hope or the branch libraries in the county.

Kansas College Head Hits NYA

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Ben H. Hentton of Kansas college of commerce Wednesday urged abolition of the NYA, declaring that money spent on NYA would pay an army of 2,473,327 men for a year at the private's pay of $21 per month.

Also broadened his criticism of relief operations as testified before the Senate Labor committee on legislation to abolish the NYA and CCC.

The Suez Canal, opened in 1869, was thirteen years in construction.

Red River Goes to 35.8 Feet Wednesday

Red river went to 35.8 feet during the night and observers at Fulton said the levee was broken in three places and water covered thousands of acres of rich farmland. The water has spread about 3 miles into Miller county and the railroad Wednesday was reinforcing bridges on the route.

Flood stage in the Fulton area is 25 feet.

Civil Defense Stickers Here

In order to defray the expenses of the Hempstead County Defense Council it has been decided that automobile windshield stickers bearing the Civilian Defense emblem will be sold at a price of 50 cents each.

The school children of Junior High and Oglesby schools have offered their services in distributing these stickers. In recognition of the patriotic services of these children the Hempstead County Defense Council will award to the one distributing the most automobile stickers a $25 Defense Bond. In recognition of the second and third highest distribution there will be awarded a $15 Defense stamp and a $5 Defense stamp.

The distribution of the automobile stickers to the school children at Junior High will be under Mr. Brasler and at Oglesby, under Mrs. Stuart. The contest is to begin at the close of school Wednesday afternoon.

In setting up the Civilian Defense Corps the Federal Government failed to appropriate funds to defray the expenses incurred by the county organizations. A few of the states have appropriated money, but Arkansas has not done so. Consequently, the responsibility of raising funds to defray the Civilian Defense Corps expenses rests entirely with each county organization.

To Recruit Women in Army Signal Corps

WASHINGTON (AP)—The War Department announced Wednesday that women would be recruited for civilian ranks of the army signal corps to help most urgent need for engineers and technicians.

A recruiting mission under Col. Fred G. Miller of the staff of chief of signal officer would tour the country for the next two months interviewing both men and women skilled in radio engineering and other phases.

Capt. Linus Walker Visitor Wednesday

Capt. Linus Walker, former treasurer of Hope Rotary club, and proprietor of the Davis Tourist Court east of the city on 67, was back in town Wednesday on 24-hour leave from Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, where he is attached to a Receiving Station.

Nazis Assert French Army to Reorganize

By the Associated Press

Relations between pro-Nazi France and the United States verged on an open break Wednesday and France's new role in the war assumed grave importance on the basis of German reports that the French army would be reorganized.

Advices reaching London quoted informed Berlin circles as saying that Gen. Henry Dentz, former French commander in Syria, would receive one of the highest posts in the French army and would reorganize the army and general staff in line with the new policy of France.

Informed London quarters said Adolf Hitler forced the 55-year-old Chief of State Pétain to reinstate Pierre Laval by threatening France with mass starvation.

In Washington informed sources said it was generally expected recall of U. S. Ambassador William D. Leahy and high government commentators said that complete re-examination of American relations with Vichy was necessary.

On the Russian front Soviet dispatches said Red army troops had smashed through Germany's first line of defense guarding Bryansk, key Nazi base only 60 miles from the border of White Russia and were now battling fiercely in the second lines.

The Moscow news said heavy German counter attack cost the invaders 22,000 killed and many times that number wounded since April 1, and the Germans lost 466 planes in the first 7 days of April against 86 Soviet planes missing.

Lenovo fighting continued to range on the Leningrad front with Red army bulletins reporting that 2,200 Germans killed there within 48 hours.

Adolf Hitler's field headquarters said German siege guns touched off big fires and explosions in shelling Leningrad itself and that totally flooded territories prevented land fighting on the southern (Ukraine) front.

In aerial warfare Britain's RAF bombers starting their second 24 hours non-stop air offensive over the continent blasted the German occupied coast where thousands of workers and Nazi soldiers are laboring feverishly to build new fortifications.

The RAF raid followed night attacks in which very large fires were left in the Ruhr industrial valley and all attacks Tuesday set a record of 9 1/2 hours.

Other assaults were directed against Leharve, Boulogne, Calais, Cape Gris Nes, Hazebrouck and Nazi airdromes in occupied France and reached as far as Turin, Italy.

Hitler's command said 9 British planes were shot down over the channel in fights and off the Norwegian coast, 10 over Germany and 9 more over Malta and North Africa.

Paper Roundup Here Thursday

The monthly roundup of scrap paper from the residential districts of Hope will be made this Thursday night, April 16, by the local Boy Scouts under the leadership of their scoutmasters, according to an announcement by the paper committee.

Residents having surplus magazines, newspapers, and cartons are requested to bundle them and set same on their front door steps by sundown, Thursday night.

The paper roundup is made the third Thursday night of each month, and if for some reason paper is overlooked at any resident, it should be carried to the Garrett gin near the Bruner-Ivory Handle company or set back for the next roundup which will be made on May 21. Since there are no facilities for collecting paper between the regular monthly dates, residents are requested not to call anyone because of oversights.

The monthly paper collection campaign is progressing properly with most residents cooperating. More than 20 tons of paper have been collected and shipped from Hempstead county to date.

Norman Green Is Promoted

Norman Arville Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Buck Green, Route 3, Hope, Arkansas, has been advanced to the rate of Aviation Machinist Mate third class in the Navy, according to word received recently from the U. S. Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, Texas.

The 22 year old Hope, Arkansas youth enlisted in the Navy on February 18, 1941 for a career. After his recruit training an instruction at the Great Lakes (Illinois) Naval Training Station, he was selected to attend the Aviation Machinist Mate's School at the Jacksonville (Fla.) Naval Air Station. Completion of an intensive training made him eligible for his latest promotion, which carries with it considerable increase in pay and rates him as a third class petty officer.

Green has been stationed at the Navy's gigantic new "University of the Air" at Corpus Christi since September 29, 1941.

Green is one of the thousands of young men throughout the nation today who are learning a profitable trade and at the same time serving their country through enlistment in the Navy. Offering more than 40 trade courses, the Navy is fully equipped to give these men an excellent technical training.

7 Accidents in Local Plants

There were seven accidents in the seven cooperating industrial plants in Hope during the month of March, according to reports made at Tuesday's meeting of the Hope Industrial Safety Council, with a loss of 517 hours out of 131,854 hours worked.

Reports of the plants are as follows: Union Compress and Warehouse Co., 5,893 hours worked; 1 accident, 32 hours lost.

Anthony Lumber Company, 19,984 hours worked; 2 accident, 145 hours lost.

Temple Cotton Oil Company, 9,311 hours worked; no accidents, no hours lost.

Bruner Ivory Handle Co., 43,148 hours worked; 3 accidents, 220 hours lost.

Gunter Lumber Company, 19,873 hours work; no accident, no hours lost.

Hope Heading Company, 7,193 hours worked; 1 accident, 120 hours lost.

Hope Basket Company, 27,552 hours worked; no accident, no hours lost.

This gives a total of 131,854 hours worked, with 7 accidents, 517 hours lost.

Successful Raid Made on Bases in Philippines

U. S. ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA (AP)—Thirteen big American bombers operating from Australia made a smashing attack on Japanese bases and shipping at Manila, Cebu, Davao and Batangas in the Philippine islands Monday and Tuesday it was announced Wednesday night.

The communiqué said "enemy shipping, docks and aircraft were destroyed and damaged in an American air attack in the Philippine area April 13 and 14. The fight consisted of three B17 and ten B25 bombers under the personal command of Brig. Gen. Ralph Boyce.

Nichols field, Batangase, Cebu and Davao were attacked.

DSC to Commander

The bombers had hardly come to standstill on the runways on returning to their bases somewhere in Australia when Brig. Gen. Rush Lincoln, representing the United Nations' air commander Lt. Gen. George H. Brett rushed up and handed General Royce the Distinguished Flying Cross as directed by President Roosevelt.

The DSC also was awarded to Lt. Col. John Hubert Davies, of Piedmont, Calif. and Capt. Frank P. Bostrom.

The raiders destroyed three Japanese transports at Cebu and hit two others, struck two transports and probably sank one at Davao, shot down three Japanese planes and damaged others on the ground, destroyed hangars and damaged runways at Nichols field, near Manila and did damage to docks, the announcement said.

At Batangase a Japanese cargo vessel, presumably carrying military supplies was sunk.

Plane Lost, Crew Saved

The entire spectacular raid was accomplished with the loss of only one plane and this crew was saved.

General Brett issued the statement commending General Royce saying the volunteers for the mission and that his accomplishments "will be told in detail at a later date but it is desired to point out that he has typified the importance of the air arm as an offensive weapon.

"He has demonstrated to the highest degree the spirit of offensive action so vital."

Mailmen Have Saving Stamps

Defense Stamps now may be purchased from rural mail-carriers, Hope Postmaster Robert M. Wilson announced Wednesday.

All rural carriers have a supply of stamps, and albums too, for the convenience of the patrons on their routes, the postmaster said.

Kiwanis Holds Weekly Meet

Louie E. Throgmorton, Past President of the Shreveport Club, was the guest speaker at Tuesday's meeting of the local Kiwanis Club. His talk, which was a comparison of a Kiwanian to a shoe, was thoroughly enjoyed by the thirty-five members and guests.

Royce Weisenberger was selected Vice-President to succeed James Pilkinton, who recently enlisted in the Navy.

Announcement was made of the opening of a Travel Bureau by the Chamber of Commerce, and the Clean Up Campaign to start next week.

Visitors and guests at the meeting were: Jack Clark, Texarkana; Dick Watkins, Dr. J. G. Martindale, Roy Anderson, Hope; J. E. Rephan, and A. R. Avery of Hot Springs.

Court Disposes of Many Cases

Circuit court adjourned Tuesday afternoon after hearing a long criminal docket. Convening again Monday, April 20, the court will hear a civil suit, Johnson vs. Standard Materials Corporation.

Judge Dexter Bush heard the following criminal cases during the Tuesday session:

Lynn Simpson. Grand larceny. Plea of guilty. Sentenced to 1 year in the state penitentiary.

Jim C. Herbert. Indicted for grand larceny. Sent to the State Hospital for observation.

Richard Johnson, indicted for murder in the first degree, but entered plea of guilty for murder in the second degree. Sentenced to 21 years in the state penitentiary.

Charles Bredove, Tilton Frazee, Henry Elledge, and Kenny Elledge, entered a plea of guilty for burglary and grand larceny. Continued for sentence.

Century Adams was found not guilty of charges of driving a car without the owner's consent.

Leroy Neely, pleaded guilty to charges of grand larceny. Continued for sentence.

Willie Neal, indicted for grand larceny, entered plea of guilty for petty larceny. Fined $25 and sentenced to 40 days.

Calvin Forbes, indicted for grand larceny, entered plea of guilty for petty larceny, fined $25 and sentenced to 30 days.

H. G. Hunter, charged with grand larceny, entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to 1 year in the penitentiary. Sentence was suspended on the grounds of good behavior. Hunter also pleaded guilty to a burglary charge and was sentenced to 3 years. Sentence suspended on the grounds of good behavior.

Jack Bostick, who was charged with murder in the first degree during the last session of circuit court, was admitted to the state hospital for observation. During this session he entered a plea of guilty of second degree murder and was sentenced to 21 years in the penitentiary.

The following pleaded guilty to charges of possessing untaxed liquor and were sentenced to 3 months in the penitentiary, with sentences to be suspended on the grounds of good behavior:

Buddy Finn, Josh James, Coy Robinson, Alex Dixon, Dave Cooper, John Kendrick, Arthur Lee Muldrow, Sam White, George Cantley, Dennis Williams, O. C. Bradford, Mary Perkins and Dola Strouther.

Soldiers Halt for Prayer

By DALE BURGESS and ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
Wide World Features

Religious awakening, pronounced in the ranks of the United States Army, is developing in the service.

In the words of Chaplain William D. Cleary, a colonel and director of the Army chaplain's school, "Some mothers and wives and sweethearts think Johnny is going to Hell when he enters the army. Our experience has been the opposite."

The Tipperary-born veteran of 24 years of Army service is enthused over reports from the staff in the field.

"Men who have gone to church are inquiring about it," he says. "Others who have been away five or 10 years are coming back. If morality is high, morale is good."

Statistics are not dependable because of shifting personnel at Army posts, but Chaplain Cleary believes the ratio of church attendance is greater among soldiers than in most civilian communities.

Attendance Voluntary

There is no compulsion about attending services, nor is there proselytizing, says Chaplain Cleary, who was ordained a Catholic priest in Paris in 1907 and entered Army service from the Brooklyn diocese. Notices of religious services are posted, and soldiers attend if they wish. There is one chaplain for every 1,200 officers and men. When two or more are assigned to a unit, almost invariably they are of different churches.

By year-end the corps of chaplains guarding the spiritual welfare of the fighting men will be the largest in national history. Head of the corps, which now number some 1,700 and is expected to reach 3,000 by December, is a veteran soldier-priest whose boyish smile belies his 60 years. He is Brigadier General William R. Arnold, first Roman Catholic to be chief of chaplains.

There is nothing sanctimonious about this former college first baseman and halfback who has spent more than 22 years in uniform. His pleasant, informal manner and ready humor mask a conviction that "the best soldiers are men of strong religious principle."

"A good soldier is more than a man in uniform armed with weapons and military skill," says General Arnold. "He must be a man with a clear mind and a clean heart. The ideal soldier is a man of spiritual power."

He agrees with Chaplain Cleary as to the link between morality and morale, and adds that military leaders are convinced sound religious training increases efficiency of a soldier.

Mental Attitudes Stressed

"General Marshall," says Chaplain Arnold, "puts in this way: 'The Army's obligation to provide religious education is not a matter of morals or sentiment. Soldiers today must be in condition morally and mentally as well as physically to withstand the ordeals of the enemy's onslaught and still be able to carry the fight to the other fellow.'"

Spiritual issues involved in this war, says General Arnold, are more sharply drawn than in the previous world war and therefore more clearly seen by the soldier.

"He recognizes that it is more than a conflict of economic systems. He realizes that freedom of speech, freedom from fear and freedom to worship God in his own way are at stake. He is confident that he has the blessing of God and of decent men in opposing the ruthless militarists who have degraded the soul of man."

Study Practical Side, Too

The Chaplain's school, reactivated in February at Fort Benjamin Harrison (Indiana), teaches such things as military law, first aid and defense against chemicals.

"But," says Chaplain Cleary, "chaplains must be men of faith, men of prayer, men of God. Regardless of the rank they may reach, the school stresses that they are first and foremost clergymen."

Like General Arnold, the chaplain is nearing 60, but his round, good-humored Irish face is as ageless as his rich brogue. Army chaplains learn from him that they must be punctual in services, can't go on and on.

He grinned at a remark that some ministers outside the Army might profit from the training. "Their congregations, too," he observed dryly.

Everything Depends on Chicago Net Team

CHICAGO —(AP)—The University of Chicago's record of having had at least one Western Conference title team each year since 1925 rests on the Maroons' tennis squad this spring.

Runner-up a year ago, Chicago, with a long list of returning veterans, looms a trifle stronger than Michigan, the defending titlist which lost its No. 1 man, Jim Tobin.

Sixteen thousand horses died of influenza in New York City in 1917.

FRANTIC WEEKEND

By EDMUND FANCOTT

CHAPTER I

MYRA MACK had spent two days on the lake shore near Montreal. It was not a pleasant thought to be facing the city, hot and humid, the office, stuffy and bustling with Monday problems, after a cool, indolent weekend.

She waited on the open wooden platform of the railway station in the freshness of the morning and examined the faces of commuters about her. All of them seemed to share her mood; none seemed to be overly pleased with the thought of the new week ahead of them.

There was not a cloud in the calm, distant blueness of the sky above and the day already promised heat. Some of the men dressed for the conventions of office work were beginning to show signs of discomfort—an askew tie, a wilted collar, creases in summer suits already failing. There were several glances of envy at the one girl who looked particularly julep-cool and comfortable.

The girl was not Myra Mack. Men she did not know were not in the habit of looking twice at Myra Mack, and she did nothing to attract them with gay or ultrachic clothes. She dressed always with the impersonal neatness and simplicity that men would not notice either unfavorably or with a flicker of interest. It was bad enough to have to look at her own face in the mirror, she would say with a wry grin, without sending up flares that attracted the attention of strangers to it. And while her modesty and Irish humor lent exaggeration to the statement, it was true her bright Irish face had no single lien on beauty.

That did not apply to the other girl on the platform.

She had obviously been born for such wilting summer days as this, just to refresh the faded eyes of Monday morning commuters. Nor was she unconscious of her mission in life. A neat and impudent fluff of straw hat and veiling sat upon the bronzed waves of her hair as though it had been created with supreme art for that very moment of a sunny morning. Her flowered silk dress, floating like many-colored mists from her slim waist and about her long legs, conspired with the breeze to draw the eyes of sober train-waiters, reminding them that the week of work ahead was a mockery when there was so much concentrated loveliness in the world to feast the eyes upon.

MYRA MACK'S critical gaze checked each flawless detail of the other girl's appearance with the cool calculation of any shrewd woman appraising another. The pattern, the casual pose, were perfect.

With no consciousness of expressing her thoughts aloud she spoke her admiration.

"That," said Myra, "is something!"

Then she turned sharply to meet the echo just behind her left ear. "You've said it!" There was such fervor in the male voice that Myra reached for the same intensity in the soldier's eyes, and found it there.

He was in battle dress but on

Illustrated by George Scarbo

"Look at those lips," said the soldier as though he had known Myra all his life. "I am looking," said Myra. "They look as if they had been put on with a rubber stamp."

his shoulders were the pips of a lieutenant.

"Look at the eyes," he said in a low voice.

"I am looking," said Myra. "She uses mascara. Too much for a face like that."

"Look at those lips," said the soldier as though he had known Myra all his life.

"She's crazy. She hasn't any sense. They look as if they had been put on with a rubber stamp. She sighed. "No, she shouldn't do that. It's too much."

The soldier nodded in agreement. "But she still looks like Spring Song and the Wedding March to me."

Myra shook her head. "That's the worst of men. They fall flat at the first imitation of a magazine cover they see."

At that moment the train clattered into the station with clouds of gray smoke soiling the summer morning and a flood of noise drowning out voices.

It subsided to a stop and there was a general movement channeling the waiting passengers to the doors of carriages.

Forgetting the girl and the strange soldier Myra climbed up between a middle-aged stock broker and a plump salesman and found a window seat in the smoker. To her surprise the officer dropped into the seat by her side.

"You are wrong," he said. "Have a cigarette?"

"Thanks," said Myra. "But I don't smoke until after breakfast."

If Myra Mack lacked any pretensions to formal beauty she had ceased to regret it. She had found that it had some advantages. The pleasant kind of men could speak to her without formality and without any fear of being suspected of ulterior motives. There was something about her that inspired confidence and nothing that would make them speak to her with other than the easy respect they reserved for favorite aunts. That was her misfortune, felt Myra, but one that had compensations.

SHE accepted the presence of the officer by her side with resignation. She glanced at his face and decided that she was glad that he argued for reviving Victory Bonds as a campaign.

But the bitterest enemies are glad that at last we have discarded the misnomer, Defense Bonds, a term which columnist was doing more damage than a dozen Fritz Kuhns.

Technically, perhaps, and very fundamentally, we really are fighting a defensive war. That is, we aren't trying to seize by force another people's territory or trade. We aren't attempting to force our ideology, our form of government, our system of economics upon the rest of the world. We are merely refusing to permit Germany, Italy and Japan to Nazify the world, including us, by force.

We are defending Democracy, but we know now that we can not preserve human rights by defensive methods. Having been forced to fight for what we treasure, we intend to take the offensive and to pursue it to the complete destruction of axis aggression.

It was high time that we got rid of the stultifying passivity suggested by "defense." It expresses too well the spirit of letting the other fellow set the pace, pick his spots, name the game and make the rules. Wars are not won in that way.

Late, but not too late, the pacific American people have begun to adopt a belligerent attitude toward this war. The new name for the government's bonds is a concrete expression of that new spirit. War Bonds. That means Fight.

We are not yet in position to make Germany, Japan and Italy suffer at home what our allies in Europe and Asia have been forced to endure. We do not yet have the material with which to undertake those ventures, nor as yet have we been able to move what we do have to the places where it is most needed.

Canadian War on Inflation

By FRED S. FERGUSON
President of NEA Service

OTTAWA, Ont. — There are two questions that call for an answer in considering the epochal battle that is being fought in Canada against inflation through the establishment of ceilings on prices and wages and which involves subsidizing, if necessary, virtually the entire economic structure of the Dominion.

The first question is: Considering the subsidies that must be paid to maintain the price ceiling, and the administrative expenses, how much has it cost to date, and what is the ultimate cost likely to be?

The Canadian Answer is: "We do not know what it has cost to date, or what its ultimate cost may be, but whatever the cost is, it will be worth it, if we can prevent repetition of the experiences of the last war when living costs went up 94 per cent, followed by collapse, unemployment and bread lines."

The next question is: What is the effect and what is the reaction of labor to having a ceiling put on wages?

The Canadian Answer is: "There is not a single strike or wage dispute in Canada. This is a national effort without regard to class or circumstance. The country, as a whole, is trying to save itself from economic disaster. A ceiling on wages alone would obviously be unfair, and a ceiling on prices without a similar ceiling on salaries and wages would be impossible to maintain. Thus both are put under the ceiling, and labor has its quid pro quo as to wages through the maintenance of price levels."

Labor leaders, naturally, have not been enthusiastic about the wage ceiling. There has, however, been no intelligent opposition through threats of resistance, and the feeling is that the rank and file of labor, whether organized or unorganized, find satisfaction in the stabilization of rents, food, clothing and all other living costs.

No 40-Hour Week in Canada

There is no forty-hour week in Canada. The week-week is from 48 to 52 hours, varying in localities. (And incidentally one of the first things everybody in Canada tells us, from the taxi driver or hotel bellhop, to people prominent in the government is—"you can't win the war on a forty-hour week.") Double time is paid for Sunday work, but it is apparent that the movement is toward a seven-day week on a shift basis which would eliminate Sunday overtime.

The closed job is not an issue, so as matters stand, whatever hours labor was working in any specific industry or other business, whatever wages were being received and whatever overtime arrangements may have existed during the "basic period"—September 15 to October 11—that is what prevails now. No change which may effect prices can be made without the consent of the War Labor and Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

In department stores, offices, or in industry, if a person is advanced to a position of added responsibility, and bottleneck broken through, and the machinery of production and transport speeded up. Even in the news of disaster there are bright spots. The toll we take of raiding Japs and Nazis proves, our defenses in the fighting areas are being strengthened. Our counter blows gradually become more frequent, more daring and more effective.

We aren't on Easy Street yet. We haven't even turned the corner. But we shall turn it the day that, by sweat and tears, we reach that point at which we can attack enemy-held territory for keeps. And the discarding of the passive name "Defense Bonds" is a real step in the right direction.

New Admirers of Seabiscuit

This can be shown, then an increase in salary or wages may be paid. But a bookkeeper, for instance, cannot be given the title of "Treasurer" and continue to do the same work and have a pay raise approved. Even directors' fees cannot be changed from what they were during the basic period, so that takes care of the top-dogs down to the last hair on a basis that is just as strict as that applied to the rank and file.

Ceilings Help Stabilize Labor

Business was no keener about the ceiling experiment than was labor in the beginning, but swung into line and co-operation from all sources is said to have exceeded all expectations. Business initiative is not curbed below the ceiling.

Employees cannot go dashing around from one job to another at constantly increasing pay for the same type of work, because of the ceiling. With the workers protected against rising living costs, under their existing pay, the labor leaders now can devote themselves to problems having to do with working conditions instead of wages.

The drive toward curtailment of non-essential spending is also gaining momentum along with the control of prices on essentials and wages. Taxes and the sale of bonds haven't approached absorbing the new money that is being paid out as a result of the war effort.

With industrial booms over Canada, similar to those to be found on the Pacific Coast and elsewhere in the United States, people are beginning to want to go places, buy this and buy that and do things. As a result a limitation on railroad travel for pleasure is being considered. In addition to the economic reasons back of this consideration is the fact that the Canadian railroads are busy with the war, and must conserve equipment for this work. The proposal under consideration is that pleasure travel be limited to 100 miles.

Asks Legion to List Wrongful Deferments

LITTLE ROCK —(AP)—Brig. Gen. E. L. Comper, state selective director, announced Wednesday he asked district representatives of the American Legion to furnish names of any draft registrants who veterans thought had been wrongfully deferred.

General Comper said any specific cases cited would be investigated by the state headquarters.

A Legion district meet at Carlisle Sunday adopted a resolution asking the state director to investigate deferments which the public cannot understand.

Batesville Visitor Is Special Guest at Tuesday Club

Three tables were arranged for the players at the home of Mrs. B. E. McMahon Tuesday afternoon when she was hostess to the Tuesday Contract members and several additional guests.

Playing resulted in Mrs. Jim Henry receiving the guest high gift, Mrs. Syd McMath, Defense Stamps for the club high, and Mrs. Foy Hammons, the cut prize. Mrs. Lynn F. Ross of Batesville, a tea guest, was presented with a dainty remembrance.

A delightful desert course was served at the conclusion of the games. Guests other than club members were Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Jim McMath, Mrs. Joe Black, Mrs. Jack Love, Mrs. Kent Brown, Mrs. J. P. Byers, Mrs. C. B. Floyd, Mrs. H. Vineyard, and Mrs. Hammons.

Three Hostesses for Iris Garden Club Meeting

Mrs. Minor Gordon, Mrs. C. Cook, and Mrs. Bill Ramsey were hostesses to the members of the Iris Garden club at the home of the former Tuesday afternoon.

At the business session, Mrs. M. M. McCloughan, the president, presided. It was decided that the club's Iris flower show will be given in May with garden club members from Prescott, Texarkana, and Emmet to be special guests.

Seventeen members were present to hear a program on "Flower Arrangements" presented by Mrs. E. O. Wingfield. She conducted an interesting quiz on state flowers. For answering the most questions, Mrs. Fred White received Defense stamps. Mrs. A. A. Albritton received the first place in the flower arrangement contest.

During the social hour the hostesses served a delicious salad course with Russian tea to the members and one guest, Mrs. E. L. Butler of Texarkana.

Louisiana Politico Gets Movie Vote

HOUSTON — By the time you read this, the people of Shreveport, La., will be learning that their police, fire and building commissioner, Mr. James Davis, has been gallivanting around in the movies. As a composer, singer and actor, complete to theatrical makeup, sprayed in wax and dressed in western costume, he has made enough money in a few days to dwarf his wage during his whole career—except as a guardian of public safety.

After talking with (or listening to) Commissioner James Davis on the set of a movie called "Strictly in the Groove," I can imagine his own constituents in Louisiana will be far less surprised than other movie fans by his extra-electoral activities.

For instance, the voters of Shreveport must have by now that Jimmy Davis is an odd combination of school teacher, crooner, composer and politician. They may even know that he has written and recorded some 300 songs, and that the sheet music royalties on just one of them, "You Are My Sunshine," have topped $22,000. Of course, sheet music sales are poorly these days, but Davis has the cheering assurance that the same song has sold about 1,250,000 records, one of the biggest hits on the six-and-six-string guitar radio programs.

Davis is tall, lean, blue-eyed, glistering Tuesday evening.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Thelma Moore was president, presided and appointed the following to serve on the nominating committee, Mrs. Roy Stephenson, Mrs. H. M. Olson, and Miss Norma Lewis.

E. F. Leonard, head of the district soil conservation service, was introduced by Miss Mary Claude Fletcher, program chairman. He gave an illustrated lecture on the preservation of soil as an aid to national defense. An invitation to the club to participate in the city clean-up program was made by R. P. Bowen, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. The club voted to cooperate.

Miss Beryl Henry, Miss Mary Claude Fletcher, and Miss Zuelia Collier will represent the club at the state meeting on Camden this week-end.

Mrs. Olin Lewis Has Euclean Class Party Tuesday

For the monthly business and social meeting, members of the Euclean class of the First Baptist Sunday school met at the home of Mrs. Olin Lewis Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Lee Cleveland conducted interesting contests and announced the clover games enjoyed throughout the evening.

A short business session was presided over by Mrs. Clyde Coffee. During the evening the hostess served a delicious desert course to the 15 members attending.

Geasley-Roberts

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Roberts announce the marriage of their daughter, Darleen, to Private Joe Geasley on Saturday, April 11, at Brownwood, Texas.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Geasley of West Point, Mississippi. The couple will be at home temporarily at Brownwood, Texas, where the bridegroom is stationed.

Personal Mention

Miss Carlene Bruner, who attends Wheaton college, Wheaton, Ill., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bruner.

Mrs. Wilbur Jones was a Tuesday visitor in Texarkana.

Reverend Harry Wintermeyer and Jimmy Henry motored to Little Rock Wednesday to attend a meeting of the Young Churchmen's group.

Mrs. Joseph R. Heard and daughter, Daisy Dorothy, motored to Texarkana Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McElroy were visitors in Texarkana Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Lloyd Spencer, Mrs. E. M. McWilliams, and Mrs. Terrell Cornelius spent Tuesday in Little Rock.

coming-toothed, and has a confidential drawing manner which in this part of the country doubles for charming, homespun wit. Davis is charming, all right, but he is about as simple as 47 foxes. He's due back at Universal in May for another picture and probably will wind up with 51 per cent of the studio.

His chronology runs something like this: Born in the tall timber 50 miles from Shreveport, went to Louisiana College and Louisiana State University, sang in the glee club, took bachelor's and master's degrees, became professor of history and social sciences at Dodd College for Women. He began singing on the radio, "Fust I did sorta classical numbnahs," he said, "then poppin' stuff, an' finally good ol' cawhn. Once I was knowed as 'Dixie's Mos' Populuh Yodelin' but yodelin' hurt mah throat."

Beginning with a guitar accompanist, he built up a band. By this time he had quit teaching and was clerk of the criminal court. Four years ago he won his commissioner's post. "I knew folks wanted some entertainment an' didn't care what I said," he admitted. "So I gave 'em entertainment. Besides, I didn't wanta be one of those promise-everything-(-)-do-nothing politicians."

Band Beats Buses
All but one of the members of his band are employed now in city offices controlled by Davis, as policemen, clerks and such. "I use the band in my campaigns," he explained.

Among his hit ballads, besides "You Are My Sunshine," are "It Makes No Difference Now," "Nobody's Darling," "Worried Mind" and "When It's Roundup Time in Heaven."

Davis came out here for a little rest recently and met some Universal executives at lunch. Three days later the studio bought screen rights to several of his songs and he was at work as a dude ranch master-of-ceremonies in what appears to be a musical western. He doesn't know what the story's about, or care either. Davis wants to hurry back to his wife, his constituents and his fishing.

Yerger Students to Give Musical Program

There will be a musical program at the Yerger High School Wednesday night.

The following members are students of Yerger School, Ruel E. Green, and the Sorensons; A. J. Piggie, Robert Savage, Willie Lee Ross, Trenton Cooper, Robert Phillips Jr., Lurlean Cannon and Author William. George Johnson is announcer for the group.

There will be reserve seats for white visitors, Principal K. J. I. Blakley, announced.

Visiting Day Is Canceled

FAYETTEVILLE — Cancellation of two more visiting days at the University of Arkansas College of Agriculture's branch experiment stations was announced here Tuesday by Dr. Walter R. Hortlacher, dean of the agri school.

The two dates cancelled are the annual spring visiting day at the Fruit and Truck Branch Station near Hope, scheduled for April 17, and the annual forestry Branch Station near Batesville, scheduled for April 21.

Annual 4-H club study days at all stations and visiting days at the Cotton Branch Station near Marianna and the Rice Branch Station near Stuttgart have been previously cancelled.

Annual forestry field day at the Department of Agriculture's Iron Fork Station near Mena, scheduled for April 28, has also been cancelled, Dr. Hortlacher said.

Cancellation of all programs at the college stations has been deemed advisable because of the tire shortage and transportation difficulties, Dr. Hortlacher said.

He reminded farmers, however, that they are always welcome at all of the stations any time, and stated that best dates to inspect winter cover crops are from now until the end of April.

Illinois GOP Names Brooks

CHICAGO — (P) — Senator C. Wayne Brooks won renomination by Illinois Republicans Tuesday night as he maintained a huge lead while returns from the state's primary election accumulated.

Brooks, a pre-war isolationist now committed to full support of America's war effort, ran with the support of his party's Illinois leaders and left his opponent, State Treasurer Warren Wright, far behind. Wright, who expressed approval of President Roosevelt's foreign policies four days before the Jap attack on Hawaii, had little organized support.

Returns from 3,728 of 8,612 precincts, including 500 in Cook county (Chicago), gave:

Brooks	239,892
Wright	46,880
McKeough	126,959

Mahen, 7:30 o'clock.

The Workers' class of the Garrett Memorial Baptist church, home of Mrs. H. D. Harston, 121 South Washington, 8 o'clock. Mrs. A. F. Greenlee, the teacher, urges a large attendance.

Chairmen of the various church circles are asked to meet Thursday, 9 a. m., at the Red Cross Service rooms in the city hall with Mrs. C. D. Lester, production chairman of the Homestead County Red Cross.

Friday, April 17th
Service Prayer Group, meeting at the First Baptist church, 3 o'clock. All members are urged to attend.

Batesville Visitor Is Special Guest at Tuesday Club
Three tables were arranged for the players at the home of Mrs. B. E. McMahan Tuesday afternoon when she was hostess to the Tuesday Contract members and several additional guests.

Playing resulted in Mrs. Jim Henry receiving the grand high gift, Mrs. Syd McMath, Defense Stamps for the club high, and Mrs. Foy Hammons, the cut prize. Mrs. Lynn F. Ross of Batesville, a tea guest, was presented with a dainty remembrance.

A delightful desert course was served at the conclusion of the games. Guests other than club members were Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Jim McKezie, Mrs. Joe Black, Mrs. Jack Lowe, Mrs. Kent Brown, Mrs. J. P. Byers, Mrs. C. B. Floyd, Mrs. H. Vineyard, and Mrs. Hammons.

Three Hostesses for Iris Garden Club Meeting
Mrs. Minor Gordon, Mrs. C. Cook, and Mrs. Bill Ramsey were hostesses to the members of the Iris Garden club at the home of the former Tuesday afternoon.

At the business session, Mrs. M. M. McCloughan, the president, presided. It was decided that the club's Iris flower show will be given in May with garden club members from Prescott, Texarkana, and Emmet to be special guests.

Seventeen members were present to hear a program on "Flower Arrangements" presented by Mrs. E. O. Wingfield. She conducted an interesting quiz on state flowers. For answering the most questions, Mrs. Fred White received Defense stamps. Mrs. A. A. Albritton received the first place in the flower arrangement contest.

During the social hour the hostesses served a delicious salad course with Russian tea to the members and one guest, Mrs. E. L. Butler of Texarkana.

B. and P. W. Club Continues Program on Defense Bonds
Covers were laid for 12 members and 2 guests at the monthly dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club at the Hotel

Louisiana Politico Gets Movie Vote

HOLLYWOOD — By the time you read this, the people of Shreveport, La., will be learning that their police, fire and building commissioner, Mr. James Davis, has been gallivanting around in the movies. As a composer, singer and actor, complete to theatrical makeup, sprayed larynx and dandified western costume, he has made enough money in a few days to dwarf his wage during his whole career-expectancy as a guardian of public safety.

After talking with (or listening to) Commissioner James Davis on the set of a movie called "Strictly in the Groove," I can imagine his own constituents in Louisiana will be far less surprised than other movie fans by his extra-electoral activities.

For instance, the voters of Shreveport must know by now that Jimmy Davis is an odd combination of scholar, yodeler, crooner, composer and politician. They may even know that he has written and recorded some 300 songs, and that the sheet music royalties on just one of them, "You Are My Sunshine," have topped $22,000.

Of course, sheet music sales are very poorly these days, but Davis has the cheering assurance that the same song has sold about 1,250,000 records, one of the biggest hits on the six-gun and six-string guitar radio programs.

Dumb Like a Fox
Davis is tall, lean, blue-eyed, glist-

Henry Tuesday evening.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Thelma Moore, vice president, presided and appointed the following to serve on the nominating committee: Mrs. Roy Stephenson, Mrs. H. M. Olson, and Miss Norma Lewis.

E. F. Leonard, head of the district soil conservation service, was introduced by Miss Mary Claude Fletcher, program chairman. He gave an illustrated lecture on the preservation of soil as an aid to national defense.

An invitation to the club to participate in the city clean-up program was made by R. P. Bowen, secretary of the Chamber of commerce. The club voted to cooperate.

Miss Beryl Henry, Miss Mary Claude Fletcher, and Miss Zuelia Collier will represent the club at the state meeting on Camden this week-end.

Mrs. Olin Lewis Has Euzelean Class Party Tuesday

For the monthly business and social meeting, members of the Euzelean class of the First Baptist Sunday school met at the home of Mrs. Olin Lewis Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Lee Garland conducted interesting contests and announced the clever games enjoyed throughout the evening.

A short business session was presided over by Mrs. Clyde Coffee. During the evening the hostess served a delicious desert course to the 15 members attending.

Geasley-Roberts

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Roberts announce the marriage of their daughter, Darleen, to Private Joe Geasley on Saturday, April 11, at Brownwood, Texas.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Geasley of West Point, Mississippi.

The couple will be at home temporarily at Brownwood, Texas, where the bridegroom is stationed.

Personal Mention

Miss Carlene Bruner, who attends Wheaton college, Wheaton, Ill., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bruner.

Mrs. Wilbur Jones was a Tuesday visitor in Texarkana.

Reverend Harry Wintermeyer and Jimmy Henry motored to Little Rock Wednesday to attend a meeting of the Young Churchmen's group.

Mrs. Joseph R. Heard and daughter, Daisy Dorothy, motored to Texarkana Tuesday.

Mrs. and Mrs. Fred McElroy were visitors in Texarkana Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Lloyd Spencer, Mrs. E. M. McWilliams, and Mrs. Terrell Cornish spent Tuesday in Little Rock.

Illinois GOP Names Brooks

CHICAGO—(P)—Senator C. Wayne Brooks won renomination by Illinois Republicans Tuesday night as he maintained a huge lead while returns from the state's primary election accumulated.

Brooks, a pre-war isolationist now committed to full support of America's war effort, ran with the support of his party's Illinois leaders and left his opponent, State Treasurer Warren Wright, far behind. Wright, who expressed approval of President Roosevelt's foreign policies four days before the Jap attack on Hawaii, had little organized support.

Returns from 3,738 of 8,612 precincts, including 500 in Cook county (Chicago), gave:

Brooks 239,802

Wright 46,880

In the contest for the Democratic nomination for United States senator, Congressman Raymond S. McCough, entry of the Kelly-Nash Chicago organization defeated Paul H. Douglas, University of Chicago economics professor and foe of the "machine." McCough and Douglas are strong supporters of the Roosevelt administration.

Returns from 3,720 precincts, including 1,400 in Cook county, gave:

McCough 330,427

Douglas 126,959

Visiting Day Is Canceled

FAYETTEVILLE — Cancellation of two more visiting days at the University of Arkansas College of Agriculture's branch experiment stations was announced here Tuesday by Dr. Walter R. Horlacher, dean of the agri school.

The two dates cancelled are the annual spring visiting day at the Fruit and Truck Branch Station near Hope, scheduled for April 17, and the annual forestry Branch Station near Batesville, scheduled for April 21.

Annual 4-H club study days at all stations and visiting days at the Cotton Branch Station near Marianna and the Rice Branch Station near Stuttgart have been previously cancelled.

Annual forestry field day at the Department of Agriculture's Iron Fork Station near Meigs, scheduled for April 28, has also been cancelled, Dr. Horlacher said.

Cancellation of all programs at the college stations has been deemed advisable because of the tire shortage and transportation difficulties, Dr. Horlacher said.

He reminded farmers, however, that they are always welcome at all of the stations any time, and stated that best dates to inspect winter cover crops are from now until the end of April.

Yerger Students to Give Musical Program

There will be a musical program at the Yerger High School Wednesday night.

The following members are students of Yerger School, Ruel E. Green, and the Serenaders; A. J. Piggee, Robert Savage, Willie Lee Ross, Trenton Cooper, Robert Phillips Jr., Lurleen Cannon and Arthur William. George Johnson is announcer for the group.

There will be reserve seats for white visitors, Principal K. J. I. Blukley, announced.

Theory Has Drawbacks
There is just one drawback to such a share-your-husband. Inevitably, the woman a wife would want her husband to be nice to would be on the unattractive side, and not likely to arouse any feelings of chivalry in the husband.
And the poor little "widow" that a husband wouldn't mind giving advice to or seeing home from a party, would usually be the one who—from his wife's viewpoint—an unsafe husband-risk.
That's the human factor that even a war won't change and it is why the wife whose husband goes off to war might as well reconcile herself to a feminine world—for the duration.

We, the Women

Take Hubby Along Next Time
You Call on Service Wives

By RUTH MILLETT

With more and more husbands going into the army, the life of the wives left behind would be less dreary if the women who still have their men would be generous toward their less fortunate sisters.
Instead of inviting temporarily
"lone" women to afternoon affairs only, the lucky women whose husbands are still at home could include them in their evening parties.
And couples could continue to drop in on a lone woman in the evening the way they used to stop by for an unannounced visit with her and her husband.
Women might even encourage their husbands to help out an absent soldier's wife who might need advice on business matters.
All this would help to make the lot of a serviceman's wife a happier one, for it is pretty much of a jolt

Mind Your Manners

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers
below:

1. If you have a dog should you feel responsible for keeping him in his own yard instead of letting him run loose over the neighborhood?

2. If a neighbor complains your dog has ruined her flowers, should you consider her a crank and do nothing about it?

3. Should a person who still drives an automobile be more generous than ever in giving others a lift, if it doesn't mean he will have to go out of his way to do so?

4. Is it gracious for a hostess to refuse to give a guest a recipe for a dish the hostess has served her?

5. Is it good manners for a man to say to his wife, "Why don't we ever have coffee this good at home?" in an effort to please his hostess?

What would you do if—
You bump into a friend that you have neglected for some time—
(a) Say, "I'm just ashamed to face you; I've neglected you so shamefully!"
(b) Act delighted to see the friend?

Answers
1. Yes.
2. No. Do what you can to make up for the damage, and keep your dog at home.
3. Yes.
4. No. It looks small and selfish.
5. No. His first loyalty is to his wife. Better "What Would You Do"

Dropping 4 Bureaus Would Save 1 1/2 Billions for War Says Senator Harry Byrd

This is the complete text of a speech delivered by Senator Harry F. Byrd, Virginia Democrat, before the Maryland Committee for Representative Government at Baltimore, Md., April 10.

On this day of our desperate peril, we have before us one supreme task. To win this war and do it so decisively that the peace of the world will be assured for many generations to come. It can be done only by a nation united and willing to make any and all sacrifice; by a nation determined to remove each and every obstacle to placing this country on a 100 per cent war basis; by a nation whose citizens must think less of getting something out of the government and more of making sacrifices for their government. We are fighting for the very existence of our Republic; for the safety and security of our families and homes; for the preservation of those freedoms that have been bequeathed to us as a sacred heritage by Americans who fought and died that we might enjoy the privileges we have today.

Victory can be achieved only by the production of more planes, more guns, more tanks and more ships than the combined efforts of all our enemies. This war is a mechanized war and will be won by the nation having the most effective modern implements of war.

Whether we are New Dealers or Old Dealers, conservatives or radicals, Democrats or Republicans, we are all now in the same boat, fighting side by side.

Hinder War Effort

Since the beginning of the European conflict we have endeavored at Washington to prepare for our own defense and still maintain so-called peace gains—the objectives of a peacetime economy—the actual operation of which makes shorter continued Federal relief in various forms, when employment is at its highest peak in our history. We have refused to curb defense strikes, an strong resistance expressed by government bureaus in the abolition of one single branch of the numerous alphabetical agencies at Washington—these agencies created to meet an emergency in peace but now continued throughout the emergency of war, even though they interfere directly with an all-out war effort. These social gains can be returned after the emergency but when and where they interfere with an all-out war effort, our security demands their suspension.

France fell in June, 1940, and her destruction came from some of the very things that have and are now interfering with our preparedness effort. The fall of France was a warning in unmistakable language that this nation should proceed immediately to place itself in an impregnable position of military preparedness. When France fell, we were working 42 hours a week, by law. On October 5, 1940, four months after the fall of France, the hours of work, by law, actually were reduced from 42 to 40, and practically every manufacturing plant in America then reduced its working hours and went on a 40-hour basis. The overtime had not then begun in a large way. Then, fourteen months later, came the disaster of Pearl Harbor, followed by defeat after defeat of the united forces in the Pacific. These grave and appalling losses give a physical and tangible demonstration that we did not avail ourselves of those precious days, months and years following the invasion of Poland, and the fall of France, to utilize even a small percentage of the potential capacity of America to produce those things so vital to protect us in this devastating war.

Facing the Facts

In July, 1940, nearly a year after the beginning of the war, our entire expenditure for national defense were only 194 million while in November, 1940, our national defense expenditures were only 393 million. The one billion dollar monthly mark was not reached until August, 1941, fourteen months after the fall of France. We were told yesterday by Sir Gerald Campbell, Britain's envoy Plenipotentiary that England, with its much smaller population, is still ahead of America in war production. I have no desire to thresh over old straw, but because we did not prepare sooner, now we must prepare the quicker, regardless of cost and sacrifice.

Even our humiliating defeat at Pearl Harbor and the defeats that followed have not changed basically some of our policies. We still stick to the 40-hour week, in the face of an overwhelming public demand for its repeal. Only recently the country was shocked to be told by Mr. Donald Nelson that we are operating on only a 30 per cent war production basis. At practically the same time reports by the British Ministry of Economic Warfare stated that German factories hit their highest production peak during this winter to re-equip divisions to launch a gigantic spring offensive.

For many months strikes impaired seriously the defense effort, and even now have not been outlawed. A national labor policy has not been adopted, although a member of the National Labor Relations Board has stated publicly that such a policy is essential for unity between capital and labor, and this is obviously true. Not a single one of the alphabetical agencies, many having nothing directly to do with national defense, has yet been abolished. Fundamentally, and under the surface, many of our high officials are still attempting to maintain peacetime social gains, which mean shorter hours of work, more luxurious living, greater personal privileges, and this, in the face of the most desperate war that this or any other nation has ever been engaged in.

U. S. Recruiting for Union

At Camp Pickett, Blacksburg, Virginia, as well as elsewhere, I think throughout the country, a free American citizen cannot obtain work as a skilled or semi-skilled mechanic on a government project without first joining and paying tribute to a labor union. In fact, at Camp Pickett, the United States Employment Service, financed out of the people's taxes, is acting as a recruiting agency, not for the contractors who do the work, but for the union, and is referring applicants for employment to the union as to maintain a closed shop for skilled and semi-skilled workmen in this essential government work.

For 30 vital months after the invasion of Poland, our war effort straggled along without a head, resulting in confusion at Washington so fantastic as to be almost unbelievable. It was only on February 18, 1942, that Donald M. Nelson was appointed chairman of the War Production Board. This act, belated as it was, has been the most constructive of our efforts, and some of the confusion, jealousies and conflicting authority that have existed in Washington from the beginning of the European war have been eliminated.

I am confident that the appointment, immediately following the fall of France, of a head, with power to act in control of the war production program would have enabled this country to protect itself in the Pacific and, at the same time, enable us to render much more valuable aid to those who are fighting for our joint cause in the west. Even now, a procurement director, with power to act under Mr. Nelson's general direction, has not been appointed, and the different agencies of government continue to bid against each other to obtain their supplies and equipment. And so far as I can ascertain, while substantial power has been given Mr. Nelson, yet not a single one of the numerous war boards has so far been abolished, and all of this in the face of the fact that we are confronted with antagonistic, cruel and ruthless, but exceedingly effective, who keep no hours of work except those set up by their dictators, and who are guilty of treason if they dare to strike.

Do not let us deceive ourselves, we are in for a long desperate war. We underestimated the military striking power of Japan, and we now see the result.

Challenge to Congress

When is Congress going to say to all classes of our citizens: You can have no special privileges in this emergency—say it to the war profiteers, to the farmers, to labor, to those seeking new and larger pensions, and to the bureaus that try to perpetuate themselves, when they do not contribute to winning the war? All special privileges must cease during the emergency. Washington cannot win the war but Washington can lose the war. The battle of Washington must be won first.

Lately we have heard about Sixth Columnists who are trying to win this war quicker by better preparedness, when we should be talking about the fifth wheels in our bureaucracy at Washington which are interfering with a total war effort.

On the same day when the stigma of Sixth Columnists was laid at the door of the critics of our war effort at Washington, the greatest modern American hero, Douglas MacArthur, said in Australia:

"One cannot wage war under present conditions without the support of public opinion, which is tremendously molded by the press and other propaganda forces. Men will not fight and die without knowing what they are fighting and dying for. The care with which the enemy keeps the truth from his people and tries to incline their minds toward certain channels and to implant certain ideas shows the weight he lays upon it. In the democracies it is essential that the public should know the truth."

If I could, I would adopt a simple slogan for the unification of America. It is this: Excluding information of value to the enemy, the American people should know, in this grave emergency, the whole truth, fully and progressively, so that by united action and universal sacrifice, we can meet our perils and perform the colossal obligations we have undertaken for the glory and welfare of our Republic.

Would Abolish These
Our government must be stripped of needless bureaus and unnecessary activities.

I personally estimate that two billion dollars each year can be saved in non-defense spending, and have given a detailed schedule.

Here it is:

Abolish the Civilian Conservation Corps.

Abolish the National Youth Administration.

Abolish the Work Projects Administration.

Abolish the Farm Security Administration.

This will save approximately $1,500,000,000 on the basis of appropriations for the current year. All of these agencies were created for the peacetime emergency of the depression. Needed relief can be provided by states and localities, while the federal government is burdened with the enormous cost of war.

Other $500,000,000 can be saved in deferring land purchases and all public works not directly connected with the war effort, in reducing the overhead expenses of the Department of Agriculture, in reducing the appropriation for the exportation and domestic consumption of agricultural commodities, and in effecting a saving in the civilian departments and transferring unneeded employees to defense projects.

All of it has been given in every detail.

When you paid your taxes on March 15th, you were given a taste of what high taxes mean, but that was small compared to what you must pay in the future. Already tax bills are now pending to increase, by 50 per cent, the present tax load, and there will be more.

Saving in Taxes

Maryland is an average state and, a 2 billion dollar reduction in non-defense spending would mean a saving of $400,000,000 a year to the average state. The amount of the income taxes paid by Maryland in 1941 was $72,000,000, and this means that this saving in non-defense spending would amount to 60 per cent of the total income taxes paid last year by Maryland.

Let us translate this sum into terms of our war effort. This reduction of 2 billion dollars in non-defense spending, for which I have given a definite program, would buy:

8,000 heavy, 4-engine bombers, fully equipped, the most effective implement of war, as Mr. Donald Nelson said the other day. 1,000 heavy, 4-engine bombers may have saved us in the Pacific.

It would buy 48,000 medium tanks, or 25,000 heavy tanks. It would buy 20 battleships, or 60 of the largest cruisers, or 200 destroyers, or 400 submarines.

Now, let us see what it would do to relieve the fantastic congestion and confusion in the Federal government. The adoption of this recommendation would release for war purposes 10,000,000 square feet of floor space. All of this is not in Washington, but it would do much to relieve the congestion there. It would release 100,000 federal employees at Washington and elsewhere who could be used in those agencies essential to the war effort. It would release a large number of automobiles and conserve tires. It would save paper, typewriters, adding machines and other things essential.

Agency Floor Space Employees

Agency	Floor Space sq. ft.	Employees
Civilian Conservation Corps	234,005	23,656
National Youth Administration	901,346	12,192
Works Projects Administration	4,707,031	16,704
Farm Security Administration	1,374,455	20,168
Other	2,500,000	25,000
Total	9,716,387	97,720

Our country should be organized for one purpose from two approaches: first, this vast complex, confusing organization of the government should be stripped of all nonessentials, with the sole purpose of prosecuting the war to an early victory; second, to adapt our civilian activities to our war effort.

We have unexpended balances of $100,000,000,000 for defense. This is about one-third of our total national wealth. This war will not be won merely by making appropriations. It would be tragic to fight a long and costly war to save democracy and then lose democracy at home.

How large a debt can this country stand? It will depend largely on the unimpaired strength of our free enterprise system, which is now menaced on three fronts: taxation; governmental regulations; and governmental competition.

The War Effort

What we must do immediately because we cannot win this war without national unity and a vastly improved war production machinery:

1. Congress must limit profits on war contracts to a reasonable rate on invested capital, eliminate all bonuses to officials of companies having war contracts and unwarranted salary increases in the higher brackets must be prohibited.

2. We must adopt a national labor policy for war work, clearly set forth by Congress, so that the bickerings between labor and capital will cease. This labor policy, in my judgment, should provide for a 48-hour week and overtime on work after that. It should abolish double time for holidays and Sundays.

3. We should freeze for the emergency the contentious question of the closed shop, so that this will be removed as an irritating issue. It should prohibit the effort of labor unions to force American citizens to join the unions and pay initiation fees in order to obtain work on government construction and war contracts. It should outlaw strikes for the period of the emergency and provide that all disputes be arbitrated by competent authority under a national labor policy as adopted by congress.

4. There should be established a procurement director under the War Production Board, so that all the different government purchases of materials and equipment, both for defense and non-defense, can be made through one single head. This would void the competition that now exists between the different agencies of the government, and enable a uniform policy of profits and performance of contracts to be worked out. Such a director would do much, I believe, to avoid the excessive profits now being made on war contracts, which are the fault, to a large measure, at least, of those agencies of government that make and sign the contracts.

5. The congress should proclaim that no special privileges of any character will be granted to any class of our citizens, as long as the emergency continues, whether in excessive war profits or in special privileges to labor, to farmers, to pensioners, or to those on relief. In this time of common sacrifice, our government cannot afford to give special privileges to any class or classes.

Soldiers Have Medical Care

By ELEANOR RAGSDALE
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
FORT MEADE, Md. — If you're worried about a soldier son, sweetheart or husband who is ill in camp—stop. Chances are he's getting a good deal better care in the army than he would at home.

Your soldiers have more, and better, nurses and doctors in proportion to their numbers than civilians do, and the swelling medical corps staff—every man of which must be a graduate of a Class A medical school—includes top men from all parts of the country.

Medical Corps figures indicate that the U. S. Army is the healthiest group of men anywhere in the world. Part of the good record is due to development of the sulfanilamide compounds which have taken the menace out of pneumonia and streptococcus infections.

Blood plasma injections after injuries or surgical operations have helped cut fatalities, due to circulatory shock, to an unbelievably small percentage.

Colds and sore throats are the most common ailments of service men, like everyone else. Tonsillitis and appendicitis are the commonest operations.

"An army man is either sick or well," is the Medical Corps saying. If he means, he can either perform his full military duty, or he goes to the station hospital until he can.

The same 100 per cent basis applies to convalescents. They are kept in the hospital until a program of Red Cross-supervised recreation, Army hikes and exercise has put them in shape to go into full action once more.

In the sprawling field station hospital here, the patients sleep, read or write letters and, when well enough, stroll in regulation maroon corduroy dressing gowns or sturdy red twill convalescent suits. For amusement they have parties, movies, entertainments and games under the leadership of Mrs. Grace Garvey, Red Cross assistant field director.

When Sunday comes, men who are "ambulatory" may attend several kinds of service in the new attached hospital chapel with its convertible altar and its stained pine beams. A professional organist, discovered among the soldiers, provides music.

To keep over-eager soldiers from skipping out of the wards ahead of time, regular uniforms are kept in a special room, and are only obtainable upon presentation of a duly signed discharge slip. The red convalescent suits are pretty conspicuous to any guard who spots them on the

Added Glamor

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. —&— Ben Hogan, Texas golf star, has passed a movie test and soon will be featured in a full-length film.

A scientist says that in 100 years there won't be a blonde left in the country. No doubt he's right. Even now it's mighty hard to leave one.

It's lucky the clothes-room was well guarded the day MacArthur arrived in Australia, for the words of almost everybody's lips were: "For gosh sake, let me outta here. I wanta get out there with MacArthur."

His War Sacrifice Lasted Long Time

CHICAGO —(P)— Seven months ago Fred Shook, Chicago Cardinals line-man, tried to join the Army Air Corps but was turned down because of his 240 pounds.

After seven months of two meals a day, without potatoes, or bread and pounds and was accepted.

CURLEE CLOTHES

"Sure — It's a Curlee Suit!"

"USED to have all my clothes especially tailored — and had the reputation of being hard-to-fit. Even when I found a ready-made suit I could wear, the chances were that the store couldn't fit me next time I needed a suit.

"But not any more. When each season rolls around, I just go in and look over the new Curlee Line. And there I find a good selection of suits in my size — in patterns and models that I like!"

That's the report of not one, but many, of our customers — men who once thought they couldn't wear "ready made" clothes. It makes no difference whether you are short or tall, thin or stout, we have Curlee Spring Suits in models and sizes to fit you. What's more — they're smartly styled, tailored to wear and moderately priced.

Curlee Somerset $27.50
Curlee Summerhaven $24.85
